

"CASCARETS" FOR SLUGGISH LIVER

No sick headache, sour stomach, biliousness or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret to-night straightens you but by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken. Adv.

Easy Winner. Senator Kay Pittman was talking in Tonopah about two lobbyists who had quarreled.

"But there's no fear," he said, "of their mauling or mutilating each other. They are like Bluff and Stuff." "Who came out ahead," a man asked, "in that street row between Bluff and Stuff?"

"Stuff did," was the answer, "but he had half a street's start."

Didn't Quite Understand. At a draper's shop they employed a small boy to run errands. The other day, while he was waiting in the shop, a lady came in and asked the assistant for a yard of silk.

When it was placed before her she exclaimed: "Oh, really, I must be mad; I want muslin!"

On hearing this the boy rushed out of the shop, and, seeing a policeman across the way, ran up to him, shouting:

"Come over here. There's a woman in our shop gone mad. She wants muzzling!"—London Tit-Bits.

A FOOD DRINK Which Brings Daily Enjoyment.

A lady doctor writes: "Though busy hourly with my own affairs, I will not deny myself the pleasure of taking a few minutes to tell of my enjoyment daily obtained from my morning cup of Postum. It is a food beverage, not an irritant like coffee."

"I began to use Postum 3 years ago, not because I wanted to, but because coffee, which I dearly loved, made my nights long, weary periods to be dreaded and unlifting me for business during the day."

"On advice of a friend, I first tried Postum, making it carefully as suggested on the package. As I had always used 'cream and no sugar,' I mixed my Postum so. It looked good, was clear and fragrant, and it was a pleasure to see the cream color it as my Kentucky friend would her coffee to look—like a new saddle."

"Then I tasted it critically, for I had tried many 'substitutes' for coffee. I was pleased, yes, satisfied with my Postum in taste and effect, and am yet, being a constant user of it all these years, I continually assure my friends and acquaintances that they will like it in place of coffee, and receive benefit from its use. I have gained weight, can sleep and am not nervous."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell both kinds. "There's a reason" for Postum.

How the Revival Came

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D. D. Dean of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

The condition of Israel calling for a revival at the time is set before us in the words, "Now for a long season Israel had been without the true God." To be without the true God is certainly a call for a revival. But what is it for a nation, or a church, or an individual, to be without the true God? In the present case it meant three things: (1) They were without the ordinances of religion. "They were without a teaching priest, and without law." (2) They were without the inner experiences of religion. "In those times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in." (3) They were without the outward blessings of religion. "And nation was destroyed of nation, and city of city; for God did vex them with all adversity."

Is not this the picture of a church or an individual professing Christianity who is without God? The gospel will be preached in that church, the ordinances administered, and the prayer meeting regularly announced, but the whole round of exercises, while possessing the form of godliness, is without the power. There is no real power in the lives of Christians existing in this way, no realization of their standing in Christ, and no joy or gladness in their testimony and service. They come into church and go out of it again, as it is said of these Israelites, without "peace." There is a state of moral and spiritual "adversity."

Now how did the revival come? There are ten steps of progress indicated to the finish:

(1) "The spirit of God came upon Azariah, the son of Obed," verse 1. The source of every true revival is divine. It can not be worked up or preached up, but it may be prayed up. "Ask and ye shall receive." It began in this instance in a single individual, a prophet, like an ordinary minister or evangelist of our own day. The spirit of God fell on him, anointing him for service.

(2) He went out and said, "hear ye me, the Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you," verse 2. What a simple thing to say, how almost childish, and yet what results it produced! Ah, it makes a great deal of difference in a message whether it comes from anointed lips or not. Now what are we told here? Only this self-evident truth, that we can not be revived unless the Lord is with us. But we are told something else also, viz., that the Lord is with us while we are with him. And what is it for us to be with him? Only to be living in obedience to him, that is all.

(3) "When Asa (the king) heard these words . . . he took courage," verse 8. The first thing the minister or pastor wants in the work of a revival is courage. He must believe that God is with him and that something is possible, nay, likely, to be accomplished. The steps of the revival now follow in regular order.

(4) He "put away the abominable idols out of all the land."

(5) He "renewed the altar of the Lord," same verse.

(6) He "gathered all" the people together; "for they fell to him out of Israel in abundance when they saw that the Lord his God was with him." The revival is now on. The crowds are coming. The church has renounced her worldliness; entertainments and euchre parties have given place to the prayer meeting. "The altar of the Lord" has been substituted for "the abominable idols," and it has proved "a drawing card." The news are filling up. The world is cold and the people are gathering around the fire of the Lord.

(7) "They offered unto the Lord the same time, of the spoil which they had brought," verse 11. Here is a further evidence of the revival. When the spirit of God stirs up a people the coffers of the treasury begin to show it. The people offer willingly when the spirit of God prompts them to do it, and he so prompts them through the ministration of his word.

(8) "They entered into a covenant to seek the Lord . . . with all their heart and with all their soul," verse 12.

(9) "And all Judah rejoiced," verse 15.

(10) "And he (the Lord) was found of them; and the Lord gave them rest round about," same verse. Thus the revival came. The preaching of the word was with power. The commandments of God were obeyed. The assurance of personal salvation was a living strength. Peace with God was accompanied by the peace of God.

Most Popular Fur-Trimmed Finery

EVERYTHING is trimmed with fur and already furriers are making up in what are called "millinery furs" imitations of martin, ermine, skunk, leopard, mole, mink and sealskin. These furs are used in bands and are used for trimming muffs, turbans, neckpieces and dresses. They border gowns at the hem, and sleeves at the wrist. Occasionally a high-necked blouse shows a narrow band of fur hugging the throat.

But it is in millinery and muffs (which are made of velvet or other fabrics) that fur bands appear as an indispensable part of the composition. Round, close-fitting turbans, Oriental turbans, small hats, a few of the larger ones that are beginning to emerge from their eclipse, are all taking to themselves the luxury and suggestion of warmth and comfort which is lent them by the fur band.

Millinery furs are called by the names of the furs they imitate, as "sealskin," "fox," "martin," "mole," "leopard," "ermine." It is more than likely that Molly Cottontail provides many of the skins which are transformed by furriers into almost anything they wish to imitate. The opossum, the skunk, the muskrat, the coyote and others have and help out in providing furs for trimming, because there is a tremendous and increasing demand for them. The skins of these people of the wild are so disguised by the dyeings and markings and pieces and clippings of furriers that their masquerading is accepted easily. No qualifying "imitation" prefixes their borrowed names. They are used in the handsomest of millinery and garments, and they make it possible for "the many" as well as "the few," to indulge in good-looking furs.

The hats on which fur bands and collars are used are small and close fitting as a rule. Mostly velvet turbans, although plush and satin figure in the making of a good number of models. The combination of fur and velvet, or fur and satin, is more effective than that of fur and plush, in millinery. When long-haired furs are used they are cut in narrow bands, but short-haired furs, not so bulky, are invariably this season cut either narrow or wide.

In passing, it may be mentioned that furs must not be cut with scissors. The home milliner or dressmaker may cut them satisfactorily by marking a line with tailor's chalk on the skin side of the pelt and cutting along this line with a razor blade. In sewing seams two edges are held together and overcast. Furriers use a triangular needle, and it is far easier to sew skins with than the round needle. All three edges are cutting edges.

It will be seen from the picture that the muffs and hats are made to match, while the neckpieces are odd—of another kind of fur or plush. This is only a fancy not an established fashion. The vogue of plain skirts with plush jackets to match in color does away with the need of a neckpiece other than a band of fur around the collar. With such a suit a hat and muff to match, trimmed with fur like that on the collar, is delightfully chic and also delightfully comfortable. One can face any degree of cold with them.

The materials used for the muffs and turbans are many, velvets, plushes, brocaded silks, brocaded crepes, wide heavy brocaded ribbons, satins and chiffon all contribute to the making up of these smart accessories. Muffs are flat and soft. Lace is used for their trimming, and a touch of lace on the turban corresponds with that on the muff. As is usual when furs are much in fashion (they are never out) metallic laces have reappeared and are sparingly used as a decoration on fancy muffs and neck wear, and in touches of gold and silver on millinery.

Some of the muffs and turbans shown may be attempted by the home dressmaker with good chances of success. Before attempting them, however, she should examine a set made by professionals. There are many small items which if overlooked spell failure.

FILMY LINGERIE FASHION'S EDICT FOR THIS SEASON

CUMBERSOME clothes are things of the past. Soft and fine, the under garments of today do not confine themselves alone to sheer muslins, but call lace and even chiffon into their fragile make-up. The latter is used for flounces and frills, on garments which are seldom worn or that can be dry-cleaned. But the filiciest laces are woven to withstand careful laundering and garments employing them are practical. Some of these laces—

German val and cluny—are very strong and will wear as long as nainsook or muslin.

Here is a corset cover which will please every woman who loves dainty finery. And is there one who does not? This pretty little furbelow is meant to be worn under sheer waists.

HAS ALMOST LOST MEANING

Suffrage Leader Declares the Too Frequent Use of the Word Domestic.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt ridiculed in Chicago the old anti-suffrage cry of domesticity—that woman's place is the home.

"The trouble is," said Mrs. Catt, "that many women cannot be domestic; they have no homes. The word 'domestic,' therefore, should not be used, as is too often the case, in a loose way."

The suffrage leader smiled.

"Yes," she continued, "some people give this word an elastic meaning as the witness gave it in a Georgia court. Asked why he was not present to testify in a certain case, the man said he had had a 'domestic trouble' just about that time."

"What was the domestic trouble, pray?" asked the examining attorney.

"Well, to tell the truth, boss," said the witness, "I was in the penitentiary for stealin' a cow."

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girls! Try This! Makes Hair Thick, Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful—No More Itching Scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Adv.

Too Much Reform.

Mayor Cheney of Hartford said of a reformer who desired to revive some of the most intolerable of the Sunday blue laws:

"The man would stop us from reading our Sunday newspaper, from taking our Sunday auto ride."

He frowned.

"A reformer of this type," he said, "may be defined as one who believes in the divine right of interference."
